The omedy is plentiful and, with Jessie Norton and Corrigan as Mr. and Mrs. McMooney, Myrtle Selwyn as their 2 960 Haughter and Sosso as their prospec 10-room house; lot 75 x 140 ... 5,000 tive son-in-law and helr of a Dutch brewer, was handled in a fashion that kept the house in a perpetual roar through the first, third and part of the second act.

Jessie Norton was in her element, acting and singing in fine style, and throwing herself into her character with the vigor that always character izes her performances. The song of "Scandalous Eyes," assisted by True Boardman somewhere on the roof and concluding with an Irish cakewalk in ompany with Corrigan, enraptured the lot and Pauline Maitland as a hag.

Shipping was very lively outside the harbor today. No less than three sailing vessels arrived. They did not come into port but remained outside and will continue their voyages without entering the harbor. The American schooner Golden

Shore and the American barkentine Kohala both arrived with coal from Newcastle, after trips of 54 and 62 days respectively, and cast their anchors off this port. The Golden Shore will proceed to Hilo with her cargo of 1130 tons of coal. She will probably sail tomorrow morning. The Kohala will go to Elcele.

At about 10 o'clock, the British steamer Yeddo arrived off port after a trip of 22 days from Newcastie. She was met outside by Secretary B. G.
